WHISKEY CASE IS TAKEN FROM JURYSpecial Judge Barnard Fines Chester
Taylor $100 and Costs and Gives Him 90 Days

SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED

State's Evidence on Charge of Possession for Purpose of Sale
Finished When Compromised

The case of the state against Chester Taylor, accused of having liquor for the purpose of sale, was withdrawn from the jury in the circuit court immediately after the noon intermission today, and Taylor was fined $100 and costs, and sentenced to serve ninety days in the state penal farm, which sentence was suspended pending his good behavior.

W. O. Barnard of Newcastle, former sixth district congressman, who sat as special judge, took the case from the jury after the state and defense had agreed on a suspended sentence and a fine of $100 if Taylor would change his plea from not guilty to guilty. Judge Barnard was appointed yesterday after the defendant filed a motion for a change of judge.

Taylor recently returned from the state penal farm where he served a sentence for assault and battery on former Chief of Police Yakey. The other charge against Taylor, that of unlawful possession of liquor, both of which were the outgrowth of the finding of seven quarts of whiskey in his machine Friday evening, April 4, with the motion on the motion of the prosecutor, it is understood.

The state had just completed its case when the court closed for the noon hour and the defense was ready to introduce its evidence when the compromise was effected. The state's witnesses were the three boys in whose possession the machine was found and Sheriff Jones and Chief of Police Seward, who recovered the car at Adams, where the boys had driven it.

Clarence Crawford, who apparently was the instigator of the plan to take Taylor's machine, testified that he cranked the car while it stood in East First street, south of the court house, and drove it away. He told the chief of police and sheriff when caught at Adams, that Taylor had said he and the other boys could have it for a ride.

Lemoine Smith and Edwin Cox, the other two boys found in the machine, indicated by their testimony that they were not guilty of any intentional wrong doing. The Smith boy said the Crawford boy told him he thought it was his grandfather's machine, and stated that he did not get in until it had started. The Cox boy got in south of the poultry house in South Main street, he stated.

Taylor's defense was to be that he did not know the whiskey was in the machine.

The jury which heard part of the evidence was composed of Walter

SET RECORD IN FUR BUYING

Oneal Brothers Invest $112,414.50
During Season

Oneal Brothers have set a new record this season in the collection of furs, having invested $112,414.50 in them during the winter, according to W. S. Oneal, who left today for Detroit to confer with the firm which the local concern represents. The increase is attributed by Mr. Oneal largely to the higher prices paid for muskrats, which are being used for making women's coats and furs. Muskrats are still in good demand although the season is practically over.

OLD COMPANY B
BOY UNDER FIREPrivate Earl Spillman of New Salem, One of Outfit Who Saw

DESCRIBES END OF THE WAR

Says His Battery Fired More Shells
Day Armistice Was Signed
Than at Any Other Time

"I was under actual fire from the first part of September until the signing of the armistice, and although I did not serve in the trenches, we fellows in the artillery knew that there was a scrap on," is the story told by a former member of Company B from this county. Private Earl Spillman returned home last night, having been given an honorable discharge from the military service at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Private Spillman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Spillman of near New Salem and was one of the men from old Company B who got to see actual service at the front. He was sent from camp here to Camp Shelby, Miss., with the rest of the company but was later transferred from there to an embarkation camp and sent on to France. After a short period of training in a French camp he was sent to the front and served there in the heavy artillery, being one of this county's sons to witness the big drive during September and from then on until it was all over.

In speaking of the time the armistice was signed he said: "It looked to us as if when they knew that hostilities were to cease they would have quit trying to kill any more men, but that was not the case. We fired more shells on the day the armistice was signed than on any day previous. It looked as if they were trying to shoot every shell that was in our outfit."

Private Spillman was later sent to the hospital, suffering with the rheumatism as a result of the exposure he was subjected. After many months of military service he has come back to friends and home and is greatly benefited by his experiences but like the rest, does not care for an opportunity to go through with them again.

Albert Martin Settles Embezzlement
Case When Arrested

The case against Albert Martin, a farm laborer, charging embezzlement has been dismissed in Squire Stech's court after the defendant returned a horse and buggy belonging to Charles Meyers alleged in the affidavit filed before Squire Stech that Martin had sold. Meyers stated that Martin sold the outfit for $50, and as soon as Martin was arrested, he arranged to have it returned to the owner at once.

WORK HAS BEGUN
ON AN AUDITORIUMCarthage Will Have New Community
Building to be Erected at a Cost of $18,000

AUDITORIUM WILL SEAT 800

Basement to be Fitted up for Dinners and Socials and Second
Story For I. O. O. F.

Work was started today on an $18,000 community building and auditorium at Carthage, which marks the culmination of a campaign by public-spirited citizens for a structure of this character, for which a great need was felt in Carthage. Excavation was begun this morning on the site of the buildings which were destroyed by fire more than a year ago, in Mill street a half block east of Main street. The building will be constructed of brick and tile and will be modern in every way.

The building will have a frontage of 80 feet on Mill street and will be 65 feet deep. The first floor, which will be used for an auditorium, will seat 800 persons, and likewise will be available for basketball games. There will also be a stage of good size proportions. The second story will be used by the I. O. O. F. for lodge rooms and will be equipped with a private kitchen and dining room. The basement will be fitted up for socials and dinners.

The building is being erected by the Carthage Auditorium association, a stock company, and the remainder of the sum needed to construct the auditorium, over and above that which has been subscribed in stock, is being donated by the people of Carthage and vicinity.

The officers of the Carthage Auditorium association are: P. J. Sattler, president; Edgar Ruby, vice-president; Jesse Newsom, secretary, and J. F. Tweedy, treasurer. These, together with Ed Adkins, comprise the board of directors.

Although not quite enough money has been raised to finance the project, boosters for the building believe that enough will be contributed long before the structure is completed. They have enough faith in the people of Carthage and vicinity at any rate, that they will make good, to go ahead with the building.

The agitation for a community building of this character was begun soon after the armistice was signed last November and Carthage boosters have stayed on the job unceasingly until they have been successful in their efforts.

County's Bloated Bond Holders
Collect From Government Today

Rush county buyers of bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan never realized what bloated bond holders they were until they began to clipping the coupons today, when the first semi-annual interest, amounting to two and one-eighth percent, was due from the government. Sales of the last issue in this county amounted to $1,184,500, which was an oversubscription of $84,500, making the interest payable to Rush county people today amount to $25,170.63. It has been urged that bond interest be invested in war savings stamps.

Others Soon Afterwards.

TWO-THIRDS VOTE NEEDED

Allied Governments Will be Permitted From 20 to 30 Days to Ratify
The Treaties.

(By United Press.)

Paris April 15.—The peace program was outlined today to the United Press as follows:

The treaty will be handed to the Germans April 25.

If the Germans have plenary powers, it will be signed almost immediately, otherwise it will first be submitted to the German government at Weimar.

Separate treaties will be presented to Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria within a few days after the Germans arrive at Versailles.

As soon as all treaties are signed, a period of 20 to 30 days will be permitted for ratification by the allied government.

When two-thirds of the governments have ratified the treaties they become effective.

President Wilson is expected to call a special session of the congress for this purpose not later than June first.

The foreign ministers council met today to discuss the mechanical details of the final peace session. Under present plans, a plenary session probably will be held next week in which the new covenant of the league of nations will be presented, as well as the final reports of other commissions.

No definite decision has been reached regarding the work after the German delegates arrive but it is understood a special committee composed of the Big Four will deal with them.

The Adriatic question under consideration by the Big Four today, will not slow up the treaties with Germany. This and other problems

GERMANS IMAGINE

Though Losers in War

BERNSTORFF IS RESPONSIBLE

(By United Press.)

Berlin, April 15.—The Germans are becoming more and more imbued with the idea that although they have lost the war, they are winning in the peace conference.

Two months ago the Germans were ready to accept any peace the allies might impose, now the people are becoming independent. It is impossible to determine whether the attitude here is the natural result of the delays in Paris or whether it is part of an organized plan on the part of the Germans. Members of the old regime are making the most of the situation, endeavoring to educate the Germans up to the idea they ought to turn Bolshevik before the peace terms are signed, and that if the allies can hardly agree among themselves when there are no Germans present, with Germans present, with German diplomats on the ground they could quickly give the allied peace program a permanent setback.

Count Von Bernstorff, was the first to predict the possibility of Germany going Bolshevik if the allies were over harsh, according to German ideas. Now is the idea spreading broadcast and is heard on every hand.

Increased Wage Demands

NEARLY 8,000 ARE ON STRIKE

Union Places Blame for Situation
on Postmaster Burleson, Who Disclaims Responsibility

(By United Press.)

Boston, April 15.—Approximately 8,000 operators of the New England telephone and telegraph companies went on strike in New England today to enforce their demands of increased wages. Hospitals and institutions who depend upon the telephone system was paralyzed.

Nearly 12,000 other telephone employees are joining the strike of the operators, according to union leaders.

The strike went into effect without much disorder.

At the local exchanges night operators whose duties ended at 7 a. m. left their boards without waiting for relief and reported to the union headquarters. Several hundred day operators reported for picket duty outside the exchanges, while the others attended a mass meeting.

Picket tours of three hours each were established about the exchanges and at the railroad terminals. The pickets were instructed to watch for strike-breakers.

The strike went into effect following eleventh-hour conferences of business interests and other agencies. The Chamber of Commerce was in session until midnight in an effort to avert the walkout while Mayor Peters held a conference with the strike leaders and later with the heads of the telephone company but without changing the situation.

The union places the blame for the situation on Postmaster-General Burleson, while the latter in a telegram last night disclaimed any responsibility. John C. Koons, his assistant, also telegraphed that he disclaimed responsibility for the walkout.

QUOTA LARGER

HOLD CONFERENCE AT 1:30

War Exhibit Train Which is on Tour
in Interest of Victory Loan
to be Here April 30

The official announcement today that Rush county's quota in the Victory Liberty loan campaign, which opens next Monday, is $825,000, was a surprise to the local organization because it was estimated yesterday that the allotment would not be over $700,000, based on a statement by Will H. Wade, state chairman, that the state quota would be approximately thirteen percent of the total bank resources.

With the national issue $6,000,000,000, Rush county's share was nearly a million, and when the total to be raised in the fifth campaign was put at $4,500,000,000, three-fourths of the Fourth loan total, it was estimated that the county's allotment would be reduced in proportion, or to a little more than $700,000.

However, township and district chairmen, together with their workers, set their shoulders to the task to put Rush county over the top, even though the goal is higher than was anticipated, at the county conference in the court house this afternoon, which was called by T. M. Green, county director of sales.

Word has been received here that, in addition to the whiffet tank, which is due in Rushville next Monday, a war exhibit train has been started on a tour of Indiana as a publicity feature of the loan drive and will be in this city Wednesday morning, April 30, from 7 until 11 o'clock. The train will arrive over the C. I. & W. and will proceed after the four-hour stop here, to Connersville and Liberty, returning through Rushville at 4 o'clock the next morning enroute to Lawrenceburg.

The train will consist of several carloads of war trophies captured from the Germans by members of the American Expeditionary Forces, including large and small cannon, airplanes, rifles and machine guns of all kinds, various sorts of ammunition with some of the big calibre shells used by the German army in the reduction of the allied trenches and fortifications. German helmets of all kinds with other paraphernalia of war collected by our soldiers also will be on view.

The train will be accompanied by an armed escort of a number of returned American soldiers who have seen service on the battle front in France. At the majority of places where stops are made there will be special patriotic meetings arranged in the interest of the Victory Liberty Loan, and well known speakers will make addresses.

Martin Clevenger Changes Plea to Guilty on Gaming Charges

Martin Clevenger was fined $10 and costs on a charge of keeping a gaming house and $5 and costs for inducing a minor to gamble, when he pleaded guilty to two grand jury indictments before Judge Sparks in the circuit court yesterday afternoon. He was arrested Thursday, April 3, and first pleaded guilty to both charges. Newlin Finney and Luther Butts were the prosecuting witnesses in gaming house case and it was Finney whom Clevenger was alleged to have induced to gamble.

OBSTACLES MET BY AGENTS

Extension Workers Exercise Patience and Tact in Overcoming Much Resistance.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In boys' and girls' club work prejudice and preconceived opinion, founded on lack of knowledge or misrepresentation, are two obstacles that county agents and demonstrators meet every day. To surmount them is not the easiest task; to convert opposition into hearty support is an achievement calling for unusual patience and tact. That both of these virtues are possessed in large measure by a majority of the extension workers may be adduced from the reports constantly coming to that bureau.

A farmer in Maryland had no use for "book farming." He upbraided his son, a member of a boys' club, for following the agent's instructions in seed-corn selection. He called the test for 100 per cent germination "foolishness," and walked off in utter disgust. The boy, encouraged by his instructor, kept at it, demonstrated the proposition, grew the selected seed, and got a typical high-grade crop, a decided contrast to dad's. That settled it. The "foolishness" turned out to be "a good idea." The farmer has become an enthusiast.

At the very outset a woman demonstrator in a northern county of Texas was opposed by the parents of a bright village girl, anxious to become a member of a boys and girls' club. The mother was not a believer in "these new-fangled ideas" and the father had no sympathy with any "crazy theory stuff." In spite of the absence of any form of invitation, the demonstrator member of a club. During the past season her garden was such a success that she will have a bigger one this year, and the co-operation of her parents. And, according to them, "any time that agent comes this way she'll find welcome on the door."

One more instance, the three covering some of the important phases of agent work in the South: The colored farmers of a certain county in a far Southern state used to pay no attention to crop rotation or diversification. They grew the same crops in the same fields, only such produce as suited their particular whim. Nor did they see any necessity for home sanitation. They didn't know anything about the necessity for either, and cared less. As for the county agent, he was an intruder. They have different ideas today. Not only do they grow the right crops, but also they take pride in the appearance of their fields and buildings. There is a friendly rivalry among them now, and the one-time intruding agent is besought to set them right in all their problems.

Thus opposition can be overcome today more than ever through the proper approach, the stick-to-it attitude, and the tact of the county and field agents and demonstrators of the extension service.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

When barley is fed to live stock, the grain should be crushed.

Quality is more important than size in selecting the breeding stock.

At present prices there is no cheaper grain feed for breeding ewes than oats.

No intelligent sheep raiser, no matter if he owns a large or small flock, will breed ewe lambs.

can continue under debate while the negotiation are under way with the Germans.

The treaty to be handed the Germans April 25 will probably consist of a general introduction, in which all the principles will be set forth and will be followed by specific protocols covering separate divisions.

Unofficial advices have indicated the enemy delegates will not be empowered to sign the pact but will be required to return with it to Weimar where it will be discussed by the German government and probably debated in the national assembly.

The treaty therefore probably will be signed about May 1.

All arrangements are going forward for the reception of the German delegates.

MAKE INQUIRY ABOUT MOTOR SCHOOL HACKS

Decatur County Officials Here Today To Investigate Methods Used in Rush County.

MAY MOTORIZE THEIR HACKS

Will Erhardt, trustee of Washington township; Albert Howe, trustee of Clay township; Robert Buell, Clinton township; C. N. Fulton, trustee of Jackson township; Ed Buckley of Marion township; and Joe Kraemer of Fugit township, all of Decatur county, and Ed Hancock of the Greensburg News, together with J. R. Crawley, superintendent of schools, were in Rush county today to investigate the motor truck methods used by township trustees in this county to haul children to and from school.

The school officials contemplate motorizing the school hack routes of the county, where only horse-drawn vehicles are now being used, with the belief that service will be cheaper and more satisfactory. The school officials were in Rushville for a short time this morning.

Wanted—Experience

Wanting more efficiency in government affairs, public opinion is fast centering on the necessity of election as President Wilson's successor in the white house one who has had the advantages of one or more terms in one or both houses of congress. The tremendous reconstruction problems now confronting the country, resultant from four years of world war and countless mistakes and unmeasured profligacies of six years of Democratic misrule, call for the closest co-operation and correlation of the administrative with the legislative branch of government.

There is no other business so vast,
so complicated, or so important as that of the government of the United States. It takes at least two years of service for a member of either House of congress to familiarize himself with the intricate operations of our governmental machinery, and it is impossible for a man with no previous experience in either house of congress, if elected president, to accomplish in the administration of government as satisfactory results as he could had he enjoyed several years previous service in the legislative branch.

In business one always seeks the individual who, in addition to honesty and industry, has the most extensive, successful experience, whether his services be desired as an employee or an employer. Special training for the work that the individual is called upon to perform is highly desirable in private business. One who is to be placed in a supervisory position should have a comprehensive knowledge of the various branches of work coming under his charge, and experience in dealing with the men in whose work
he must co-operate.

The same principles apply in government business, and special care
in selection should be given to the qualifications of the individual who is to occupy the position of greatest power and responsibility in shaping the destiny of the nation.

The marked success of William McKinley as president was due largely to his many years of service
in congress, which gave him a comprehensive knowledge of governmental affairs and enabled him to cooperate with, rather than continually antagonize, the legislative branch of government, which under the constitution is ranked as first in importance. The prosperity and happi-

The Promise of Easter

We know Easter as one of the two great religious festivals of the year. After the self-denial and sadness of Lent it comes to us as a great joy.

In being emblematic of the Resurrection it is emblematic of life and hope. And everything in the season when we celebrate it is suggestive of the same idea. The return of spring and verdure and bird-life each year
is like the fulfillment of a hope.

The allies tell us that the peace treaty will be completed and offered to the world by Easter. No more appropriate time could be found for its promulgation.

After the years of destruction
and suffering which the war has entailed—after terror and chaos, we hope for a new-made world, a world
whose inspiration will be brotherly love and a strong sense of mutual obligation and helpfulness among nations.

We have not reached the millennium. The change in old custom and thought cannot be immediate. But the peace treaty is the first step toward a world governed by right
and justice. And its completion seems, like Easter, symbolic of hope and joy.

The United States government is scattered about promiscuously in this country and in Europe. But we seem to be getting on just as well
as if we were governed.

It is not disclosed why the Greensburg officials are making an investigation.

"CAN I BE CURED?" SAYS THE SUFFERER

How often have you heard that sad cry from the victims of disease. Perhaps the disorder has gone too far for help, but oftener it is just in its first stages and the pains and aches are only nature's first cries for help. Do not despair. Find out the cause and give nature all the help you can and she will repay you with health. Look after the kidneys. The kidneys are the most overworked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering and throwing off the poison that constantly accumulates in the system, everything goes wrong. GOLD MEDAL Haaslem Oil Capsules will give almost immediate relief from kidney and bladder troubles and their kindred ailments. They will free your body from pain in short order. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. Look for the name on every box. In three sizes, sealed packages. Money refunded if they do not help you.

QUOTA LARGER THAN EXPECTED

the "Whiffet" class, built on the model of the French Renault type, will not accompany the War Exhibit train, but will make a separate tour, going overland from city to city. In this way the country districts through a great part of the state will have their first view of these modern engines of war which the United States was ready to produce in great numbers at the time the armistice was signed last November. The tour of the tanks through Indiana will not only give the Hoosier people a chance to see this latest development of the war, but the trip will be a thorough test of the machines themselves.

The War Exhibit Train will carry, in addition to the trophies of war captured from the Germans, many of the latest devices manufactured for the American army. These will include the most modern types of cannon and machine guns, and will be an example of what the government of this country was doing in the way of preparation for the overthrow of the German forces. Practically every instrument of warfare on exhibition was being produced in large number at the time the armistice was signed.

Autobiography of a Hog

"My Dad weighs 500 pounds. My maw is 3 years old, and scales 250 pounds. I was born 5 months ago. My maw is short and plump. She told me she always ate corn. That's the reason her bones are little, and I never got enough milk. I shall never forget the first corn I ever ate. Gee, it was hard to eat and digest. I ate it on the ground, and of course, a lot of it was wasted. A week or two later my maw showed me how to find worms. I soon became an expert ground fisher for them. I like worms. So do my brothers and sisters. Rooting was fun then. When I was 2 months old, I was awfully scared. My maw ate a real live chicken, and my Daddy devoured a little pig. Just to think, my own Daddy is a cannibal."

Easter

The day of days is almost here. Distinction calls for discernment. The little things that mark the difference between Original and Ordinary are not so little as to escape notice; indeed, they are important enough to warrant the most careful consideration of Mauzy's displays. Thus are women assured in the very details of the apparel they select now that superiority that is not superfluity—simplicity that is true art. To the younger set, the lineaments of fashion must be denoted with the liveliness and loveliness of youth. Only intimacy with the mood of youth can thus fitly express its mode; and this is precisely the mission of our Misses' departments.

Take Public Into Confidence

Prominent physicians claim people fall in life because of "nerve hunger" that it is the active bright-eyed, strong nerved man or woman who is "there" at work or play.

Strong, well nourished nerves is the great secret of success, health and happiness.

Men and women try to live regardless of health, strength, ambition, energy and hope, they exceed the speed limits, wasting nerve strength and energy and fail to store up reserve force, afterwards they only exist, life has no joys.

Without energy, ambition, strong nerves, and pure blood one cannot hope to enjoy the fullest measure of success and happiness.

A noted specialist says, "Phosphated Iron brings strength to the blood, nerves and brain, that it is a perfect combination of vital elements of great tonic qualities when taken by 'Nerve-sick humans', that it will increase body and nerve energy, restore ambition and staying powers."

He also says: "If you are the victim of overwork, worry, excess of mental and physical forces, have the blues, and the pleasures of life are no longer enjoyable, that you need Phosphated Iron to brace, build you up and put you on your feet again."

Special Notice—To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute any pills or tablets.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Waggoner of this county have received word from their son, Private Grover Waggoner, who is now in France serving in Motor Ambulance Company 35 stationed at Moniville with the A. E. F. In the letter under the date of Feb. 24 he gives a brief summary of his travels. A part of the letter is given herewith:

"We certainly have had a fine winter and I am glad to know that all of you are in good health. I am feeling fine, since I feel that definite peace is near at hand. The following are the names of the different towns in which we have been since leaving the States. We loaded on the boat at New York on the 13th. of August and sailed on the 14th., arriving at Brest on the 25th. where we stayed three days. We then marched to a rest camp where we stayed overnight and then returned to Brest the next morning. We loaded a train the next morning and rode until 12 o'clock Saturday night, stopping at a railroad head called Fountain La Porte, where we remained until morning.

"On September the 6th. we hiked to Pemmeles and stayed there until the 22nd., going from there to Ancy La France to the railroad. We loaded again and arrived at Chatingy about 9 o'clock Sunday morning and that night hiked to a French camp called Bois Lavque where we stayed until the 9th. of October. We then hiked about 23 miles to Gusecont and stayed over night. We then loaded into ambulances and went to John Fontaine where the company went into action. We stayed there until the 26th., then moved to Mamey where we remained until the 10. of December and from there we moved to our present location, which is about 10 miles from Toul."

telephone hearings, express, sleeping car, telegraph, transportation and pipe line companies will require two days.

I. & C. Traction Company Petitions
State Commission For Revised
Freight Schedule

RECEIPTS ARE INSUFFICIENT

The Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction company has filed a petition with the Public Service Commission for an increase in freight rates and revisions of classification, zones, etc., it was learned today.

The petitioner points out that because of operation in all departments, the receipts of its business are insufficient to meet expenses and fixed charges, and states that if the request is granted, the receipts from the handling of freight will be slightly increased and will aid in meeting the deficit.

The traction company asks that the same rates be established as are now in force on the steam railroads.

OPINION IS NOT REVISED

County Assessor Believes Farm
Lands Will Average Near 150

Earl Priest, county assessor, stated yesterday evening that he had not revised his opinion that the assessed valuation of farm lands and improvements would average between $140 and $250 an acre. This statement was made after he had conferred with township assessors here Saturday.

The taxing officials made a report on the assessment of personal property for the last two weeks, and in a few days Mr. Priest will have figured out the averages for the most important items, and will make a report to the state board.

Janesville Shaft-Drive Planter

WHAT a feeling of satisfaction it is to pull into the field that you spent so much time and work on and just drive and drive with that click, click, click of the dropping kernels never ceasing until you raise the marker for the last time, and you haven't had a bit of trouble!

Here is a planter that does the corn planting on time, no delay, and with as much accuracy as any other planter you can buy.

The Janesville Shaft-Drive Planter does away with all springs, dogs and gumming-up and clap-trap fixings that may hold you up just long enough when they get out of order to let a spring rain throw you back a week. The secret is in the shaft drive. It runs in a bath of grease, free from dust and gumming.

Change as you go along, without stopping, two, three or four kernels in a hill. A foot lever throws it from a check planter to a drill planter.

Equipped with sight feed—you see every hill as it drops. Fertilizer or Cow Pea attachment can be attached.

TO BE SURE OF CROPS PREPARE GARDEN WELL

One of the first obstacles encountered by most town gardeners is in breaking up and preparing the soil, but the difficulty is far from insurmountable.

The farmer has teams and plows and can easily prepare his garden, but in the city it is hard to obtain a plowman, and in most cases the garden area is so small as to make it difficult to work a team. Where it is not feasible to plow the land spading will have to be resorted to. In fact, United States Department of Agriculture specialists believe a good job of spading is better in the long run than plowing, and, while it requires a larger amount of hand labor, the work can be done at odd times and will not prove burdensome.

There are cases, however, where the land is so hard that it can be neither plowed nor spaded, and about the only method of breaking it up is by use of a pick or a mattock. This would seem like an impossible proposition from a garden standpoint but, on the other hand, hundreds of splendid city gardeners have been grown on just such land.

also corrects any sourness in the soil due to lack of drainage, but in a case of this kind proper drainage should be secured.

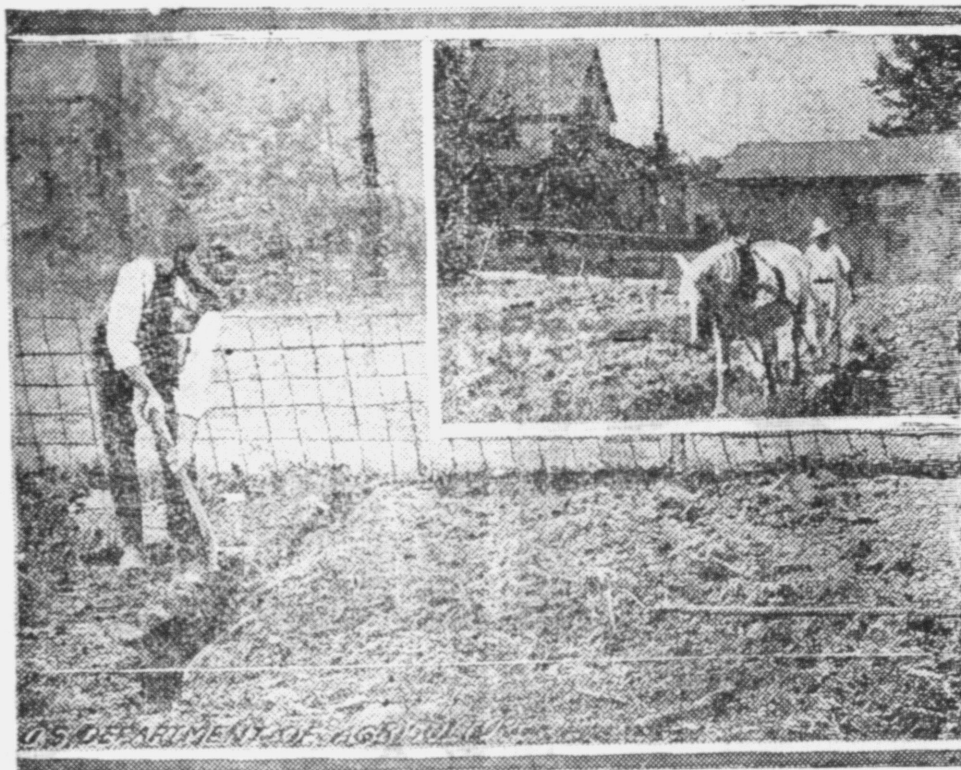

Lime should always be applied to the surface, and in no case should it be put on the land at the same time as commercial fertilizer.

The proper method would be to spread the lime upon the land just after plowing and before harrowing; then apply the commercial fertilizer one week later. Under no circumstances should lime be mixed with commercial fertilizer or with manure, as it liberates the nitrogen from them.

The cleanings from the poultry house are valuable as a garden fertilizer, and these should be saved in barrels or some other receptacle where they can be kept reasonably dry until they are spread upon the garden. This class of fertilizer is very rich and liable to burn the plants if applied in too great quantities or in direct contact with the roots of the plants.

The work of cultivating the garden

The spade is likely to make a better garden than the plow, and there'll be no backache if the work is done piecemeal at odd times.

In some cases the rocks removed from the soil have been sufficient to construct a fence around the outside of the garden.

The essential in preparing a difficult piece of land for a garden is to get the soil broken up fine to a depth of 8 or 10 inches and to incorporate with it a considerable quantity of stable or barnyard manure. The supply of manure in cities is now limited, and gardeners should make early arrangements for the amount they will need. Assuming that the average backyard garden will be about 30 by 60 to 40 by 80 feet in size, it is safe to recommend the application of one large two-horse load of manure to each garden. In some cases vacant city lots have been used as a dumping ground for manure and no additional fertilization will be required. This is the exception, however, and as a general rule it will be necessary to apply fertilizing material to the land.

Gardeners frequently inquire as to the advisability of using coal and wood ashes on garden soils. The use of coal ashes is permissible on heavy clay soil. However, they should be screened before being applied, and then should be spread evenly over the surface and thoroughly mixed with the soil as deep as it is plowed or spaded. Coal ashes have little value as fertilizer, their use being mainly to loosen the soil and make it more workable. Wood ashes, especially those produced by burning hardwoods like hickory or oak, frequently contain as high as 7 percent potash, and are valuable fertilizers. Those produced from burning soft woods, such as pine, and also hardwood ashes that have been exposed to the weather, have comparatively little value as fertilizer. About 50 pounds of dry, unslacked hardwood ashes may be applied to a plot of ground 30 by 60 feet in size, but should be well mixed with the soil.

An application of about 10 ordinary 10-quart pailfuls of hydrated or air-slaked lime to a plot of ground 30 by 60 feet in size will generally prove beneficial. Lime has the effect of loosening and pulverizing any heavy clay soil, and of binding loose, sandy soils. Lime

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

den will be greatly reduced if special attention is given to the thorough preparation of the soil before any seeds are planted. In spading the land it should be turned over in small slices and thoroughly pulverized with the edge of the spade. No amount of raking of the surface will result in pulverizing the lower strata of soil unless this is done as it is turned over. In soils that are easy to handle, a 4-tine spading fork is to be preferred to an ordinary spade because it breaks up the soil and pulverizes it to better advantage.

The home gardeners of England take great pains in the preparation of their garden soils, even going to the extent of throwing the surface soil to one side and then spading manure into the subsoil to a depth of 14 or 16 inches. After the subsoil is so treated, the surface soil is replaced and great quantities of decayed manure mixed with it. This process is known as "trenching," and has the effect of carrying the crops through the drouth period in much better manner than where the soil is not broken so deeply.

Preparation of soil and application of fertilizer is discussed in further detail in garden bulletins of the United States Department of Agriculture, free on request.

Make This Test For Acid-Stomach

There are millions of people who suffer almost daily from the horrors of an acid-stomach—indigestion; sour, gassy, stomach; distressing heartburn; sickening food-repeating; painful bloating and that miserable, puffed up, lumpy feeling after eating. Many of these people have tried treatment after treatment; medicine after medicine; others have gone to doctors and stomach specialists and some to hospitals but in spite of all of their efforts they have obtained no lasting relief or a permanent cure.

These symptoms simply mean acid-stomach. If allowed to run on, they are very likely to cause a lot of serious trouble. Dyspepsia, rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, splitting headache, dizzy spells, nervousness, sleeplessness, mental depression, melancholia, a feeling of listlessness and all-goneness—these are just a few of the disorders which can be traced to acid-stomach. As a matter of fact, acid-stomach is often the direct cause of those almost incurable conditions known as catarrh of the stomach, intestinal ulcer, and cancer of the stomach. The lives of those who suffer from these serious troubles are nothing short of daily agony. Surely, then, you must see how important it is to go at once to the seat of the trouble—acid-stomach. You know what acid-mouth does to the teeth—how it eats right through the hard enamel and causes them to decay. Think then of the havoc that must be caused by excess acid in the stomach!

Even if you are not suffering any immediate stomach pains, but are not feeling just as fit and fine as you should, you should by all means make this test: go to your drug store at once and get a big box of EATONIC. It is in the form of pleasant-tasting tablets—you eat them like a bit of candy. EATONIC is prepared for just one purpose—correcting acid-stomach by driving out the excess acid. EATONIC literally absorbs the excess acid. It brings instant relief from the pains of indigestion, heartburn, belching, sour, gassy stomach, bloating, etc. It makes the stomach pure, sweet, cool and comfortable, puts it in a normal, healthy condition, so that your food is properly digested. You need every bit of strength you can possibly get out of the food you eat—and EATONIC helps you get it.

Don't put this test off if you value your future good health and happiness. You run no chance at all because EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed to give you relief or your druggist will refund your money. The cost is a mere trifle.

ONE MAN OPERATES BOTH TRACTOR AND IMPLEMENT

One Man Discs 27 Acres a Day with the New

MOLINE
UNIVERSAL TRACTOR
It Solves The Farm Help Problem

Discing is rapidly and economically done with the new Moline-Universal Tractor, Model D, one man with an 8-foot tandem disc harrow covering 27 acres in ten hours. With a 10-foot disc harrow he covers 38 acres, and with a 20-foot peg-tooth harrow 76 acres.

The light weight of the Moline-Universal Tractor, 3,380 pounds, makes it especially adapted for discing and similar work, as it does not pack the soil and uses but little fuel, running on less than half throttle most of the time. It is light, but more than enough power to pull two 14-inch plows at high speed, all its weight being traction weight.

The Moline-Universal Tractor attaches directly to the implement and forms a single, compact unit with it that is controlled by the operator from the seat of the implement, where he must sit to do good work. One man with the Moline-Universal does as good work as two men with the average tractor.

The Moline-Universal is adapted for all classes of farm work. Its high clearance, 20 1/2 inches, makes it ideal for cultivating, and it is equally well fitted for planting and harvesting. In addition, it has ample power for belt work, pulling a 24-inch grain separator or 16-inch ensilage cutter with ease.

There is work on the farm every day in the year for the Moline-Universal Tractor. It will do every field operation that can be done with horses and do it better, faster, and cheaper. This is why the Moline-Universal really replaces horses, and, at the same time, by enabling one man to do much more work than ever before possible, solves the farm help problem.

The detailed construction of the new Moline-Universal, Model D, is the best it is possible to manufacture. Perfected 4-cylinder overhead-valve engine, electric starting and lighting system, complete enclosure of all working parts, and fifteen Hyatt roller bearings, are a few of the main features.

We invite you to examine this machine at your earliest opportunity.

GERMAN SOLDIER IS NOT DANGEROUS

Under the New Republic the Various Departments of the Army no Longer Exist

USED IN EMERGENCIES ONLY.

Organization Is Under the Supervision of One of the Government's Most Trusted Men.

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, March 20. (By Mail.)—Under the new republic the departments of the army and navy are no more, in name at least. The republic's name for them is defense, and they are placed under charge of Gustav Noske, much trusted by the Government for his prompt action in emergencies, and much hated by the Spartacists for his relentless opposition when disorders break out.

Noske's appointment as head of the navy, as well as the army, was regarded none too seriously, by Noske himself at least. When asked by a newspaperman what he expected to do about the naval affairs of Germany in the future, Noske laughed and replied, "Why worry about naval affairs, when we haven't any navy."

There are still sailors in big numbers in Germany, however, and they have been a problem. During the revolution the sailors played an important part, and most of them developed such a liking to land duty in Berlin and other big cities that they have refused to leave for Kiel or any of the harbors. Now the sailors are used in the guard regiments all over Germany, along with soldiers.

The German army is in process of reorganization. Immediately after the armistice, the army almost disappeared as an organized unit, and though there were millions of men in uniform scattered all over the land, none was responsible to anyone, and officers were not even safe in uniform. In localities the soldiers joined "red guard" groups, and some served and others misused their privileges. Thus the army as it was known in the old days practically vanished, except for a few divisions under Hindenburg, camped behind the Rhine, and the troops along the Polish border.

Now the only army of the field that Germany has is in the east to guard against the Poles. It is commanded by Hindenburg and is supposed to be not more than sixty or seventy thousand men, if it numbers that many. However, Government troops are scattered over the country in every big city and in industrial centers to guard against disorders. The big problem is keeping these troops faithful and satisfied, when Spartacist propaganda and money is at large. Under Noske and the minister of war, Colonel Reinhard, though the morale and discipline of the Government troops have improved tremendously until a great part of the former efficiency is restored.

Germany's army is in a transitory state. What it will become depends upon the peace terms, the Germans recognize. But there has evidently been a change in idea in the Government. Early in the revolution, Ebert declared himself against a conscripted army, and Noske and

300,000 Persons Who Value a Dollar Drive a Maxwell

ONE reason—and the main one—why persons change from one car to another after a year's use is this: the cost is too much to keep it running.

A Maxwell possesses the prized virtue of staying out of the repair shop and running and running and running. This is why:

Raw materials are purchased in large quantities and for cash. Economy No. 1.

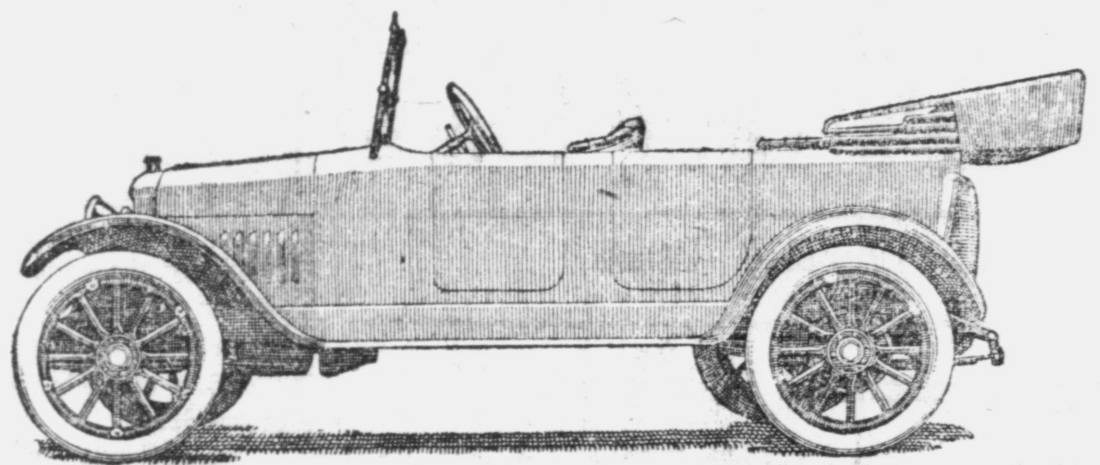

There are no engineering knick-knacks in a Maxwell. Economy No. 2.

The road engineer who spends 12 months a year testing Maxwell cars for weaknesses, and who has driven a motor car further than any living man, finds the "mistakes" before they get into production and are therefore not passed on to you. Economy No. 3.

Maxwell cars are built on the original chassis plan laid down 5 years ago. 300,000 have been built to date. Doing one thing always results in doing it well. Economy No. 4.

All "temperament" is taken out of the car by the engineering department so that it is well nigh impossible to find a Maxwell with an "uneven disposition". Economy No. 5.

There are 25 others. These fortify you against after-trouble in a Maxwell. That is why you can be doubly sure on a Maxwell if you value highly a thrifty dollar. Most persons do, and 300,000 of them drive Maxwells.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

Although ridiculed as a craze, it is a scientific fact that sour milk conduces to longevity.

NOTICE Of the Filing of a Petition For The Improvement of a Highway in Rush County, State of Indiana:

In the Matter of the Petition of the J. W. Anderson et al for the Improvement of a Highway Under the County Unit Road Act, in Rush County, Indiana.

Notice is hereby given that a petition, addressed to the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, State of Indiana, signed by more than fifty freeholders and voters of said county and praying for the improvement of a highway wholly in said county was filed in the office of the Auditor of said county on the 7th day of April, 1919, and said Auditor then and there designated by endorsement thereon the 26th day of April, 1919, being a day in a regular session of the said Board of Commissioners and not more than thirty days after the filing of such petition, as the day upon which said petition shall be presented to said Board.

That said petition is for the improvement of a highway under an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, approved March 11th, 1919, known as the County Unit Law that the matter be considered at such hearing is whether said petition is in due form and sufficient in substance to order such petition to be spread of an Act of the County Surveyor, in accordance with the provisions of said Act that the beginning, course and terminus of the proposed road and improvement are as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the line between Sections 25 and 26, Township 12 North, Range 9 East, and the Rush and Decatur County lines, and running thence north on and over an existing highway and on the line between Sections 25 and 26, also 23 and 24, Township 12 North, Range 9 East, to the northwest corner of said Section 24. Thence east about 35 rods to the intersection of said highway running north. Thence in a north and easterly direction on and over an existing highway and through the west half of Section 13, Township 12 North, Range 9 East, to the north line of said Section 13; thence east on an existing highway on the line dividing Sections 12 and 13, Township 12 North, Range 9 East, and 7 and 18, Township 12 North, Range 10 East, to the southeast corner of said Section 7, thence north over and along an existing highway on the line dividing Sections 7 and 8 and 5 and 6 in Township 12 North, Range 10 East, to the northwest corner of said Section 5, thence north along existing highway on the line between Sections 31 and 32, 29 and 30, 19 and 20, 17 and 18, to a point on the line between Sections 7 and 8 about two-thirds of the distance along the line between the north and south lines of said sections, thence in a northeasterly direction across the northwest corner of said Section 8, and to a point in the southwest corner of Section 5 and to the end of the brick street over Main street in the City of Rushville, extended south, all said last named sections being in Township 13 North, Range 10 East, and said highway being approximately twelve (12) miles in length.

That said petitioners recommend that the highway be made forty (40) feet in width; that said highway, throughout the course of the proposed improvement, be paved with cement, bituminous concrete or brick, to the width of eighteen (18) feet, with sufficient berms and ditches at each side thereof, and with such culverts, bridges and other waterways as the Surveyor or Engineer deems sufficient. We also ask that said highway be paved twenty-four (24) feet wide over the following description: Beginning at the southeast corner of Section 7, Township 12 North, Range 10 East, and running thence west on line between Sections 7 and 18 and between 12 and 13, to where said highway turns to the south.

Now, therefore, all parties concerned are hereby notified that on the 26th day of April, 1919, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as the same can be heard, at a regular session of said Board at its office in the Court House in said County, the said petition will be presented to said Board and a hearing had thereon, and that any interested party may appear at such hearing and show cause why the request prayed for in the petition shall not be granted.

In witness whereof, I, William H. McMILLIN, Auditor of said County, have signed the above and foregoing notice and affixed thereto the seal of said County, this 7th day of April, 1919. (Seal) W. H. McMILLIN, Auditor Rush County, Ind. Apr-15

SITUATION IN MUNICH IS STILL CONFUSING

War Minister Noske Threatens to Send a Military Expedition Against City

GERMAN STRIKES CONTINUE

(By United Press.)

Berne, April 15.—War Minister Noske has threatened to send a military expedition against Munich, according to advices received here. The situation in Munich is still confusing. Reports of the overthrow of the Soviet government has not yet been confirmed nor later reports of the restoration of the Soviets to power. It has been learned that a Soviet republic has been proclaimed in Brunswick. Communists rule in the Ruhr district have been prevented only through overwhelming numbers of government troops occupying that region.

Strikes are continuing throughout Germany. The new Bolshevik attacks have been to obtain control of certain railway centers.

Spartans are feverishly attempting to join hands with communists in Munich.

MATCH YOU!

Indianapolis, April 15.—Why not match your wife's savings? Hays Buskirk of Bloomington and Indianapolis, makes the suggestion. He agreed to buy a war savings stamp for his wife, to match every one that she was able to buy out of her household allowance. He gives the stamp to Mrs. Buskirk, with the result, he says, that her savings run steadily to a tidy sum every month.

Mr. Buskirk made this suggestion to several married men and many are taking it up.

AMUSEMENTS

A 20th Century Hero

The conventional stage hero of some years ago would not recognize George Walsh, who is appearing at the Mystic theatre tonight in his latest William Fox production, "I'll Say So," as belonging to the hero class. His methods would probably shock many of those matinee idols whose work was of the same cut and dried style that was thought necessary to the role.

It is not enough to describe Walsh's acting as "different." It is different but it is characterized by a personality which has brought this young star to the front rank of popular choice. His acting is a proof that the highest art lies in being natural. On the screen he is seen as himself—big, strong, handsome, manly American.

His loveliness as a hero does not contain any of that stock business of stage craft. It is free and open. It is as wholesome and as natural as the air he breathes.

Walsh was born on March 15th, 1892, in New York City. His father was an Englishman and his ancestors have been in the British Army and Navy for generations.

Young Walsh was reared as a New Yorker and was educated in the public schools there. Later he attended Fordham and Georgetown Universities and took degrees there.

During his school and college career George Walsh was not only able in his studies, but he was noted as an athlete. His cleverness on a horse, at the wheel of a racing car, in the water or on ice is well known to Fox Film fans. This sort of training has best fitted him for the style of action with which he surrounds all of his pictures.

Tomorrow Margaretta Fischer in "Money Isn't Everything," will be shown.

Double Program Draws

"The Doctor and the Woman," directed by Lois Weber, was shown at the Princess theatre last night to a crowded house and will be shown again tonight.

Why should a famous physician suddenly sacrifice friends, fame and fortune—disappear to hide his head in shame from his fellow practitioners? What reasons are powerful enough to cause him to thus give up the benefits that came as the result of a lifetime endeavor?

"The Doctor and the Woman," the Jewel adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinehart's powerful novel "K" tells the story of this physician's predicament.

Of special interest is the fact that "The Doctor and the Woman," was directed by Lois Weber, whose recent production "The Price of a Good Time," created such a sensation in this community.

True Boardman appears as co-star with Miss Harris, enacting the role of "K LeMoine," the physician who seeks to hide himself from his fellowmen.

Fatty Arbuckle in "Camping Out" is also on the program. Tomorrow Norma Talmadge in "The Probation Wife," and Pathe News are the offerings. Friday Fred Stone in "Under the Top," will be shown.

Inward Satisfaction Vs. Outward Evidences of Anxiety

Outward evidences which advertise the average motorists' anxieties are noticeably absent from the FRANKLIN SEDAN—radiator blanket, water thermometer, alcohol fumes, spare tires, shock absorbers.

Contrast the advertised worries of other motorists with the inward satisfaction of the FRANKLIN SEDAN owner. No water to boil or freeze—177 parts incident to water cooling eliminated. Half as many tires to buy—blowouts and punctures almost unknown. More miles per day and more days per year than other motorists get.

When you buy a FRANKLIN SEDAN you buy a clean bill of performance with freedom from many common worries, big and little.

Chester Taylor, accused of having liquor for the purpose of sale, was withdrawn from the jury in the circuit court immediately after the noon intermission today, and Taylor was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve ninety days in the state penal farm, which sentence was suspended pending his good behaviour.

W. O. Barnard of Newcastle,
former sixth district congressman,
who sat as special judge, took the case from the jury after the state and defense had agreed on a suspended sentence and a fine of $100
if Taylor would change his plea
from not guilty to guilty. Judge Barnard was appointed yesterday
after the defendant filed a motion
for a change of judge.

Taylor recently returned from the state penal farm where he served a sentence for assault and battery on former Chief of Police Yakey. The other charge against Taylor, that of unlawful possession of liquor, both of which were the outgrowth of the finding of seven quarts of whiskey
in his machine Friday evening, April 4, with the motion on the motion of the prosecutor, it is understood.

The state had just completed its case when the court closed for the noon hour and the defense was ready to introduce its evidence when the compromise was effected. The state's witnesses were the three boys in whose possession the machine was found and Sheriff
Jones and Chief of Police Soward,
who recovered the car at Adams,
where the boys had driven it.

Clarence Crawford, who apparently was the instigator of the plan to take Taylor's machine, testified that he cranked the car while it stood in East First street, south of the court house, and drove it away.
He told the chief of police and sheriff when caught in Adams, that Taylor had said he and the other boys
could have it for a ride.

Lemoine Smith and Edwin Cox,
the other two boys found in the machine, indicated by their testimony that they were not guilty of any intentional wrong doing. The Smith boy said the Crawford boy told him he thought it was his grandfather's machine, and stated that he did not get in until it had started. The Cox boy got in south of the poultry house in South Main street, he stated.

Taylor's defense was to be that he did not know the whiskey was in the machine.

The jury which heard part of the evidence was composed of Walter

Oneal Brothers Invest $112,414.50
During Season

Oneal Brothers have set a new record this season in the collection
of furs, having invested $112,414.50
in them during the winter, according to W. S. Oneal, who left today for Detroit to confer with the firm
which the local concern represents.
The increase is attributed by Mr.
Oneal largely to the higher prices paid for muskrats, which are being used for making women's coats and furs. Muskrats are still in good demand although the season is practically over.

ing the favor of all those who took the work. The Rev. Mr. Phillippi was 29 years and had been away from Milroy about one and one half the peritonitis.

OLD COMPANY B BOY UNDER FIRE

Private Earl Spillman of New Salem, One of Outfit Who Saw
Service is Discharged

DESCRIBES END OF THE WAR

Says His Battery Fired More Shells
Day Armistice Was Signed
Than at Any Other Time

"I was under actual fire from the first part of September until the signing of the armistice, and although I did not serve in the trenches, we fellows in the artillery knew that there was a scrap on," is the story told by a former member of Company B from this county. Private Earl Spillman returned home
last night, having been given an honorable discharge from the military service at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Private Spillman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Spillman of near New Salem and was one of the men from old Company B who got to see actual service at the front. He was sent from camp here to Camp Shelby, Miss., with the rest of the company but was later transferred from there to an embarkation camp and sent on to France. After a short period of training in a French camp he was sent to the front and served there in the heavy artillery,
being one of this county's sons to witness the big drive during September and from then on until it was all over.

In speaking of the time the armistice was signed he said: "It looked to us as if when they knew that hostilities were to cease they would have quit trying to kill any more men, but that was not the case. We fired more shells on the day the armistice was signed than on any day previous. It looked as if they were trying to shoot every shell that was in our outfit."

Private Spillman was later sent to the hospital, suffering with the rheumatism as a result of the ex-posure he was subjected. After many months of military service he has come back to friends and home
and is greatly benefited by his experiences but like the rest, does not care for an opportunity to go through with them again.

Albert Martin Settles Embezzlement
Case When Arrested

The case against Albert Martin, a farm laborer, charging embezzlement
has been dismissed in Squire Stech's court after the defendant returned a horse and buggy belonging to Charles Meyers alleged in the affidavit
filed before Squire Stech that Martin had sold. Meyers stated that Martin sold the outfit for $50, and as soon as Martin was arrested,
he arranged to have it returned to the owner at once.

WORK HAS BEGUN ON AN AUDITORIUM

Carthage Will Have New Community
Building to be Erected at a
Cost of $18,000

AUDITORIUM WILL SEAT 800

Basement to be Fitted up for Dinners and Socials and Second
Story For I. O. O. F.

Work was started today on an $18,000 community building and auditorium at Carthage, which marks
the culmination of a campaign by public-spirited citizens for a structure of this character, for which a great need was felt in Carthage. Excavation was begun this morning on the site of the buildings which were destroyed by fire more than a year ago, in Mill street a half block east of Main street. The building will be constructed of brick and tile and will be modern in every way.

The building will have a frontage of 80 feet on Mill street and will be 65 feet deep. The first floor, which will be used for an auditorium, will seat 800 persons, and likewise will be available for basketball games.
There will also be a stage of good size proportions. The second story will be used by the I. O. O. F. for lodge rooms and will be equipped with a private kitchen and dining room. The basement will be fitted up for socials and dinners.

The building is being erected by the Carthage Auditorium association,
a stock company, and the remainder of the sum needed to construct the auditorium, over and above that
which has been subscribed in stock,
is being donated by the people of Carthage and vicinity.

The officers of the Carthage Auditorium association are: P. J. Sattler, president; Edgar Ruby, vice-president; Jesse Newsom, secretary, and J. F. Tweedy, treasurer. These, together with Ed Adkins, comprise
the board of directors.

Although not quite enough money
has been raised to finance the project, boosters for the building believe that enough will be contributed long before the structure is completed. They have enough faith in the people of Carthage and vicinity
at any rate, that they will make good, to go ahead with the building.

The agitation for a community
building of this character was begun
soon after the armistice was signed last November and Carthage boosters have stayed on the job unceas-ingly until they have been successful in their efforts.

$25,170.63 INTEREST DUE

County's Bloated Bond Holders
Collect From Government Today

Rush county buyers of bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan never realized what bloated bond holders
they were until they began to clipping the coupons today, when the first semi-annual interest, amounting to two and one-eighth percent,
was due from the government. Sales of the last issue in this county amounted to $1,184,500, which was an oversubscription of $84,500,
making the interest payable to Rush
county people today amount to $25,- 170.63. It has been urged that bond interest be invested in war savings stamps.

PEACE PROGRAM OUTLINED TODAY

Treaty Will be Handed to Germans
April 25 and Separate Pacts to Others Soon Afterwards.

TWO-THIRDS VOTE NEEDED

Allied Governments Will be Permitted From 20 to 30 Days to Ratify
The Treaties.

(By United Press.)

Paris, April 15.—The peace program was outlined today to the United Press as follows:

The treaty will be handed to the Germans April 25.

If the Germans have plenary powers, it will be signed almost immediately, otherwise it will first be submitted to the German government at Weimar.

Separate treaties will be presented to Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria
within a few days after the Germans
arrive at Versailles.

As soon as all treaties are signed,
a period of 20 to 30 days will be permitted for ratification by the allied government.

When two-thirds of the governments have ratified the treaties they become effective.

President Wilson is expected to call a special session of the congress for this purpose not later than June first.

The foreign ministers council met today to discuss the mechanical details of the final peace session. Under present plans, a plenary session
probably will be held next week in which the new covenant of the league of nations will be presented, as well as the final reports of other commissions.

No definite decision has been reached regarding the work after the German delegates arrive but it is understood a special committee composed of the Big Four will deal
with them.

The Adriatic question under consideration by the Big Four today,
will not slow up the treaties with

GERMANS IMAGINE THEY ARE WINNING

Deluded With Idea They Are Victorious in Peace Conference
Though Losers in War

BERNSTORFF IS RESPONSIBLE

(By United Press.)

Berlin, April 15.—The Germans are becoming more and more imbued with the idea that although they have lost the war, they are winning
in the peace conference.

Two months ago the Germans were ready to accept any peace the allies might impose, now the people are becoming independent. It is impossible to determine whether the attitude here is the natural result of the delays in Paris or whether it is part of an organized plan on the part of the Germans. Members of the old regime are making the most of the situation, endeavoring to educate the Germans up to the idea
they ought to turn Bolshevik before the peace terms are signed, and that if the allies can hardly agree among themselves when there are no Germans present, with Germans present, with German diplomats on the ground they could quickly give the allied peace program a permanent setback.

Count Von Bernstorff, was the first to predict the possibility of Germany going Bolshevik if the allies were over harsh, according to German ideas. Now is the idea is spreading broadcast and is heard on every hand.

OPERATORS IN NEW ENGLAND ON STRIKE

Entire Telephone System is Paralyzed by Walkout to Enforce
Increased Wage Demands

NEARLY 8,000 ARE ON STRIKE

Union Places Blame for Situation
on Postmaster Bursleson, Who Disclaims Responsibility

(By United Press.)

Boston, April 15.—Approximately 8,000 operators of the New England
telephone and telegraph companies went on strike in New England today to enforce their demands of increased wages. Hospitals and institutions who depend upon the telephone system was paralyzed.

Nearly 12,000 other telephone employes are joining the strike of the operators, according to union leaders.

The strike went into effect without much disorder.

At the local exchanges night operators whose duties ended at 7 a.
m. left their boards without waiting for relief and reported to the union headquarters. Several hundred day operators reported for picket duty
outside the exchanges, while the others attended a mass meeting.

Picket tours of three hours each
were established about the exchanges and at the railroad terminals. The pickets were instructed to watch for strike-breakers.

The strike went into effect following eleven-hour conferences of business interests and other agencies. The Chamber of Commerce was in session until midnight in an effort to avert the walkout while Mayor Peters held a conference with the strike leaders and later with the heads of the telephone company
but without changing the situation.

The union places the blame for the situation on Postmaster-General Bursleson, while the latter in a telegram last night disclaimed any responsibility. John C. Koons, his assistant, also telegraphed that he disclaimed responsibility for the walkout.

QUOTA LARGER THAN EXPECTED

Though This is Case, Township
Workers Set Shoulders to Task
to Put Rush County Over

HOLD CONFERENCE AT 1:30

War Exhibit Train Which is on Tour
in Interest of Victory Loan
to be Here April 30

The official announcement today
that Rush county's quota in the Victory Liberty loan campaign, which opens next Monday, is $825,000, was a surprise to the local organization
because it was estimated yesterday
that the allotment would not be over $700,000, based on a statement by Will H. Wade, state chairman, that the state quota would be approximately thirteen percent of the total bank resources.

With the national issue $8,000,- 000,000, Rush county's share was nearly a million, and when the total to be raised in the fifth campaign was put at $4,500,000,000, three-fourths of the fourth loan total, it was estimated that the county's allotment would be reduced in propo-tion, or to a little more than $700,000.

However, township and district
chairmen, together with their workers, set their shoulders to the task
to put Rush county over the top,
even though the goal is higher than
was anticipated, at the county conference in the court house this afternoon, which was called by T. M.
Green, county director of sales.

Word has been received here that,
in addition to the whiffet tank, which is due in Rushville next Monday, a war exhibit train has been started on a tour of Indiana as a publicity feature of the loan drive and will be in this city Wednesday morning,
April 30, from 7 until 11 o'clock.
The train will arrive over the C. I.
& W. and will proceed after the four-hour stop here, to Connersville and Liberty, returning through Rushville at 4 o'clock the next morning enroute to Lawrenceburg.

The train will consist of several carloads of war trophies captured
from the Germans by members of the American Expeditionary Forces,
including large and small cannon,
airplanes, rifles and machine guns of all kinds, various sorts of ammunition with some of the big calibre shells used by the German army in the reduction of the allied trenches and fortifications. German helmets of all kinds with other paraphernalia
of war collected by our soldiers
also will be on view.

The train will be accompanied by an armed escort of a number of returned American soldiers who have seen service on the battle front in France. At the majority of places where stops are made there will be special patriotic meetings arranged
in the interest of the Victory Liberty Loan, and well known speakers will make addresses.

MARTIN CLEVINGER CHANGES PLEA TO GUILTY ON GAMING CHARGES

Martin Clevenger was fined $10
and costs on a charge of keeping a gaming house and $5 and costs for inducing a minor to gamble, when he pleaded guilty to two grand jury indictments before Judge Sparks in the circuit court yesterday afternoon. He was arrested Thursday, April 3, and first pleaded guilty to both charges. Newlin Finney and Luther Butts were the prosecuting witnesses in gaming house case and it was Finney whom Clevenger was alleged to have induced to gamble.

OBSTACLES MET BY AGENTS

Extension Workers Exercise Patience and Tact in Overcoming Much Resistance.

In boys' and girls' club work prejudice and preconceived opinion, founded on lack of knowledge or misrepresentation, are two obstacles that county agents and demonstrators meet every day. To surmount them is not the easiest task; to convert opposition into hearty support is an achievement calling for unusual patience and tact. That both of these virtues are possessed in large measure by a majority of the extension workers may be deduced from the reports constantly coming to that bureau.

A farmer in Maryland had no use for "book farming." He upbraided his son, a member of a boys' club, for following the agent's instructions in seed-corn selection. He called the test for 100 per cent germination "foolishness," and walked off in utter disgust. The boy, encouraged by his instructor, kept at it, demonstrated the proposition, grew the selected seed, and got a typical high-grade crop, a decided contrast to dad's. That settled it. The "foolishness" turned out to be "a good idea." The farmer has become an enthusiast.

At the very outset a woman demonstrator in a northern county of Texas was opposed by the parents of a bright village girl, anxious to become a member of a boys and girls' club. The mother was not a believer in "these new-fangled ideas" and the father had no sympathy with any "crazy theory stuff." In spite of the absence of any form of invitation, the demonstrator member of a club. During the past season her garden was such a success that she will have a bigger one this year, and the co-operation of her parents. And, according to them, "any time that agent comes this way we'll find welcome on the spot."

One more instance, the three covering some of the important phases of agent work in the South: The colored farmers of a certain county in a far Southern state used to pay no attention to crop rotation or diversification. They grew the same crops in the same fields, only such produce as suited their particular whim. Nor did they see any necessity for home sanitation. They didn't know anything about the necessity for either, and cared less. As for the county agent, he was an intruder. They have different ideas today. Not only do they grow the right crops, but also they take pride in the appearance of their fields and buildings. There is a friendly rivalry among them now, and the one-time intruding agent is sought to set them right in all their problems.

Thus opposition can be overcome today more than ever through the proper approach, the stick-to-it attitude, and the tact of the county and field agents and demonstrators of the extension service.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

When barley is fed to live stock, the grain should be crushed.

Quality is more important than size in selecting the breeding stock.

At present prices there is no cheaper grain feed for breeding ewes than oats.

No intelligent sheep raiser, no matter if he owns a large or small flock, will breed ewe lambs.

Both barley and oats should be ground for pigs, and a high protein feed like ground soy beans, tankage or linseed oil meal fed with them.

can continue under debate while the negotiation are under way with the Germans.

The treaty to be handed the Germans April 25 will probably consist of a general introduction, in which all the principles will be set forth and will be followed by specific protocols covering separate divisions.

Unofficial advices have indicated the enemy delegates will not be empowered to sign the pact but will be required to return with it to Weimar where it will be discussed by the German government and probably debated in the national assembly.

The treaty therefore probably will be signed about May 1.

All arrangements are going forward for the reception of the German delegates.

MAKE INQUIRY ABOUT MOTOR SCHOOL HACKS

Decatur County Officials Here Today To Investigate Methods Used in Rush County.

MAY MOTORIZE THEIR HACKS

Will Erhardt, trustee of Washington township; Albert Howe, trustee of Clay township; Robert Buell, Clinton township; C. N. Fulton, trustee of Jackson township; Ed Buckley of Marion township; and Joe Kraemer of Fugit township, all of Decatur county, and Ed Hancock of the Greenburg News, together with J. R. Crawley, superintendent of schools, were in Rush county today to investigate the motor truck methods used by township trustees in this county to haul children to and from school.

The school officials contemplate motorizing the school hack routes of the county, where only horse-drawn vehicles are now being used, with the belief that service will be cheaper and more satisfactory. The school officials were in Rushville for a short time this morning.

Wanting more efficiency in government affairs, public opinion is fast centering on the necessity of election as President Wilson's successor in the white house one who has had the advantages of one or more terms in one or both houses of congress. The tremendous reconstruction problems now confronting the country, resultant from four years of world war and countless mistakes and unmeasured profligacies of six years of Democratic misrule, call for the closest co-operation and correlation of the administrative with the legislative branch of government.

There is no other business so vast, so complicated, or so important as that of the government of the United States. It takes at least two years of service for a member of either House of congress to familiarize himself with the intricate operations of our governmental machinery, and it is impossible for a man with no previous experience in either house of congress, if elected president, to accomplish in the administration of government as satisfactory results as he could had he enjoyed several years previous service in the legislative branch.

In business one always seeks the individual who, in addition to honesty and industry, has the most extensive, successful experience, whether his services be desired as an employee or an employer. Special training for the work that the individual is called upon to perform is highly desirable in private business. One who is to be placed in a supervisory position should have a comprehensive knowledge of the various branches of work coming under his charge, and experience in dealing with the men in whose work he must co-operate.

The same principles apply in government business, and special care in selection should be given to the qualifications of the individual who is to occupy the position of greatest power and responsibility in shaping the destiny of the nation.

The marked success of William McKinley as president was due largely to his many years of service in congress, which gave him a comprehensive knowledge of governmental affairs and enabled him to co-operate with, rather than continually antagonize, the legislative branch of government, which under the constitution is ranked as first in importance. The prosperity and happi-

The Promise of Easter

We know Easter as one of the two great religious festivals of the year. After the self-denial and sadness of Lent it comes to us as a great joy.

Un being emblematic of the Resurrection it is emblematic of life and hope. And everything in the season when we celebrate it is suggestive of the same idea. The return of spring and verdure and bird-life each year is like the fulfillment of a hope.

The allies tell us that the peace treaty will be completed and offered to the world by Easter. No more appropriate time could be found for its promulgation.

After the years of destruction and suffering which the war has entailed—after terror and chaos, we hope for a new-made world, a world whose inspiration will be brotherly love and a strong sense of mutual obligation and helpfulness among nations.

We have not reached the millennium. The change in old custom and thought cannot be immediate. But the peace treaty is the first step toward a world governed by right and justice. And its completion seems, like Easter, symbolic of hope and joy.

The United States government is scattered about promiscuously in this country and in Europe. But we seem to be getting on just as well as if we were governed.

the "Whiffet" class, built on the model of the French Renault type, will not accompany the War Exhibit train, but will make a separate tour, going overland from city to city. In this way the country districts through a great part of the state will have their first view of these modern engines of war which the United States was ready to produce in great numbers at the time the armistice was signed last November. The tour of the tanks through Indiana will not only give the Hoosier people a chance to see this latest development of the war, but the trip will be a thorough test of the machines themselves.

The War Exhibit Train will carry, in addition to the trophies of war captured from the Germans, many of the latest devices manufactured for the American army. These will include the most modern types of cannon and machine guns, and will be an example of what the government of this country was doing in the way of preparation for the overthrow of the German forces. Practically every instrument of warfare on exhibition was being produced in large number at the time the armistice was signed.

"My Dad weighs 500 pounds. My maw is 3 years old, and scales 250 pounds. I was born 5 months ago. My maw is short and plump. She told me she always ate corn. That's the reason her bones are little, and I never got enough milk. I shall never forget the first corn I ever ate. Gee, it was hard to eat and digest. I ate it on the ground, and of course, a lot of it was wasted. A week or two later my maw showed me how to find worms. I soon became an expert ground fisher for them. I like worms. So do my brothers and sisters. Rooting was fun then. When I was 2 months old, I was awfully scared. My maw ate a real live chicken, and my Daddy devoured a little pig. Just to think, my own Daddy is a cannibal."

Easter

The day of days is almost here. Distinction calls for discernment. The little things that mark the difference between Original and Ordinary are not so little as to escape notice; indeed, they are important enough to warrant the most careful consideration of Maury's displays. Thus are women assured in the very details of the apparel they select now that superiority that is not superfluity—simplicity that is true art. To the younger set, the lineaments of fashion must be denoted with the liveliness and loveliness of youth. Only intimacy with the mood of youth can thus fitly express its mode; and this is precisely the mission of our Misses' departments.

Prominent physicians claim people fall in life because of "nerve hunger" that it is the active bright-eyed, strong, nervous man or woman who is "there" at work or play.

Strong, well nourished nerves is the great secret of success, health and happiness.

Men and women try to live regardless of health, strength, ambition, energy and hope, they exceed the speed limits, wasting nerve strength and energy and fall to store up reserve force, afterwards they only exist, life has no joys.

Without energy, ambition, strong nerves, and pure blood one cannot hope to enjoy the fullest measure of success and happiness.

A noted specialist says, "Phosphated Iron brings strength to the blood, nerves and brain, that it is a perfect combination of vital elements of great tonic qualities when taken by 'Nerve-sick humans', that it will increase body and nerve energy, restore ambition and staying powers."

He also says: "If you are the victim of overwork, worry, excess of mental and physical forces, have the blues, and the pleasures of life are no longer enjoyable, that you need Phosphated Iron to brace, build you up and put you on your feet again."

Special Notice—To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute any pills or tablets.

GIVES SUMMARY OF HIS TRAVELS

Private Grover Waggoner Now With the A. E. F. in France with Ambulance Company No. 35.

WRITES INTERESTING LETTER.

Tells of Landing in Brest August 14 And Reaching Front Where Company Fought.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Waggoner of this county have received word from their son, Private Grover Waggoner, who is now in France serving in Motor Ambulance Company 35 stationed at Moniville with the A. E. F. In the letter under the date of Feb. 24 he gives a brief summary of his travels. A part of the letter is given herewith:

"We certainly have had a fine winter and I am glad to know that all of you are in good health. I am feeling fine, since I feel that definite peace is near at hand. The following are the names of the different towns in which we have been since leaving the States. We loaded on the boat at New York on the 13th. of August and sailed on the 14th., arriving at Brest on the 25th. where we stayed three days. We then marched to a rest camp where we stayed overnight and then returned to Brest the next morning. We loaded a train the next morning and rode until 12 o'clock Saturday night, stopping at a railroad head called Pountain La Porte, where we remained until morning.

"On September the 6th. we hiked to Pemmales and stayed there until the 22nd., going from there to Ancy La France to the railhead. We loaded again and arrived at Chatingy about 9 o'clock Sunday morning and that night hiked to a French camp called Bois Lavque where we stayed until the 9th. of October. We then hiked about 23 miles to Gusecont and stayed over night. We then loaded into ambulances and went to John Fontaine where the company went into action. We stayed there until the 26th., then moved to Maney where we remained until the 10 of December and from there we moved to our present location, which is about 10 miles from Toul."

Private Waggoner closes like all the rest hopes that the next move will land him in the U. S.

I. & C. Traction Company Petitions State Commission For Revised Freight Schedule

RECEIPTS ARE INSUFFICIENT

The Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction company has filed a petition with the Public Service Commission for an increase in freight rates and revisions of classification, zones, etc., it was learned today.

The petitioner points out that because of operation in all departments, the receipts of its business are insufficient to meet expenses and fixed charges, and states that if the request is granted, the receipts from the handling of freight will be slightly increased and will aid in meeting the deficit.

The traction company asks that the same rates be established as are now in force on the steam railroads.

OPINION IS NOT REVISED

County Assessor Believes Farm Lands Will Average Near 150

Earl Priest, county assessor, stated yesterday evening that he had not revised his opinion that the assessed valuation of farm lands and improvements would average between $140 and $250 an acre. This statement was made after he had conferred with township assessors here Saturday.

The taxing officials made a report on the assessment of personal property for the last two weeks, and in a few days Mr. Priest will have figured out the averages for the most important items, and will make a report to the state board.

Corner Main and First Streets

One of the first obstacles encountered by most town gardeners is in breaking up and preparing the soil, but the difficulty is far from insurmountable.

The farmer has teams and plows and can easily prepare his garden, but in the city it is hard to obtain a plowman, and in most cases the garden area is so small as to make it difficult to work a team. Where it is not feasible to plow the land spading will have to be restored to. In fact, United States Department of Agriculture specialists believe a good job of spading is better in the long run than plowing, and, while it requires a larger amount of hand labor, the work can be done at odd times and will not prove burdensome.

There are cases, however, where the land is so hard that it can be neither plowed nor spaded, and about the only method of breaking it up is by use of a pick or a mattock. This would seem like an impossible proposition from a garden standpoint, but, on the other hand, hundreds of splendid city gardeners have been grown on just such land.

also corrects any sourness in the soil due to lack of drainage, but in a case of this kind proper drainage should be secured.

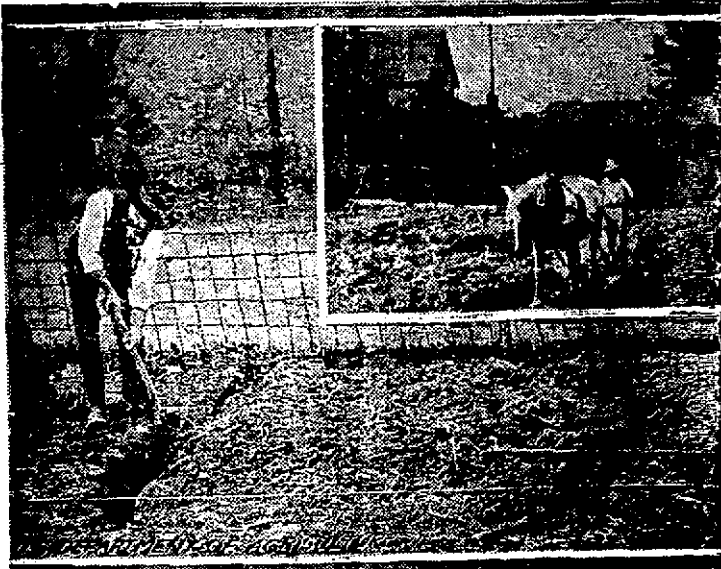

Lime should always be applied to the surface, and in no case should it be put on the land at the same time as commercial fertilizer.

The proper method would be to spread the lime upon the land just after plowing and before harrowing; then apply the commercial fertilizer one week later. Under no circumstances should lime be mixed with commercial fertilizer or with manure, as it liberates the nitrogen from them.

The cleanings from the poultry house are valuable as a garden fertilizer, and these should be saved in barrels or some other receptacle where they can be kept reasonably dry until they are spread upon the garden. This class of fertilizer is very rich and liable to burn the plants if applied in too great quantities or in direct contact with the roots of the plants.

The work of cultivating the gar-

The spade is likely to make a better garden than the plow, and there'll be no backache if the work is done piecemeal at odd times.

In some cases the rocks removed from the soil have been sufficient to construct a fence around the outside of the garden.

The essential in preparing a difficult piece of land for a garden is to get the soil broken up fine to a depth of 8 or 10 inches and to incorporate with it a considerable quantity of stable or barnyard manure. The supply of manure in cities is now limited, and gardeners should make early arrangements for the amount they will need. Assuming that the average backyard garden will be about 30 by 60 to 40 by 50 feet in size, it is safe to recommend the application of one large two-horse load of manure to each garden. In some cases vacant city lots have been used as a dumping ground for manure and no additional fertilization will be required. This is the exception, however, and as a general rule it will be necessary to apply fertilizing material to the land.

Gardeners frequently inquire as to the advisability of using coal and wood ashes on garden soils. The use of coal ashes is permissible on heavy clay soil. However, they should be screened before being applied, and then should be spread evenly over the surface and thoroughly mixed with the soil as deep as it is plowed or spaded. Coal ashes have little value as fertilizer, their use being mainly to loosen the soil and make it more workable. Wood ashes, especially those produced by burning hardwoods like hickory or oak, frequently contain as high as 7 percent potash, and are valuable fertilizers. Those produced from burning soft woods, such as pine, and also hardwood ashes that have been exposed to the weather, have comparatively little value as fertilizer. About 50 pounds of dry, unslaked hardwood ashes may be applied to a plot of ground 30 by 60 feet in size, but should be well mixed with the soil.

An application of about 10 ordinary 10-quart pailfuls of hydrated or air-slaked lime to a plot of ground 30 by 60 feet in size will generally prove beneficial. Lime has the effect of loosening and pulverizing any heavy clay soil, and of binding loose, sandy soils. Lime

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

Here is a planter that does the corn planting on time, no delay, and with as much accuracy as any other planter you can buy.

The Janesville Shaft-Drive Planter does away with all springs, dogs and gumming-up and clap-trap fixings that may hold you up just long enough when they get out of order to let a spring rain throw you back a week. The secret is in the shaft drive. It runs in a bath of grease, free from dust and gumming.

Change as you go along, without stopping, two, three or four kernels in a hill. A foot lever throws it from a check planter to a drill planter.

den will be greatly reduced if special attention is given to the thorough preparation of the soil before any seeds are planted. In spading the land it should be turned over in small slices and thoroughly pulverized with the edge of the spade. No amount of raking of the surface will result in pulverizing the lower strata of soil unless this is done as it is turned over. In soils that are easy to handle, a 4-tine spading fork is to be preferred to an ordinary spade because it breaks up the soil and pulverizes it to better advantage.

The home gardeners of England take great pains in the preparation of their garden soils, even going to the extent of throwing the surface soil to one side and then spading manure into the subsoil to a depth of 14 or 16 inches. After the subsoil is so treated, the surface soil is replaced and great quantities of decayed manure mixed with it. This process is known as "trenching," and has the effect of carrying the crops through the drouth period in much better manner than where the soil is not broken so deeply.

Preparation of soil and application of fertilizer is discussed in further detail in garden bulletins of the United States Department of Agriculture, free on request.

Make This Test For Acid-Stomach

There are millions of people who suffer almost daily from the horrors of an acid-stomach—indigestion; sour, gassy, stomach; distressing heartburn; sickening food-repeating; painful bloating and that miserable, puffed up, lumpy feeling after eating. Many of these people have tried treatment after treatment; medicine after medicine; others have gone to doctors and stomach specialists and some to hospitals but in spite of all their efforts they have obtained no lasting relief or a permanent cure.

These symptoms simply mean acid-stomach. If allowed to run on, they are very likely to cause a lot of serious trouble. Dyspepsia, rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, splitting headache, dizzy spells, nervousness, sleeplessness, mental depression, melancholia, a feeling of listlessness and all-goneness—these are just a few of the disorders which can be traced to acid-stomach. As a matter of fact, acid-stomach is often the direct cause of those almost incurable conditions known as catarrh of the stomach, intestinal ulcer, and cancer of the stomach. The lives of those who suffer from these serious troubles are nothing short of daily agony. Surely, then, you must see how important it is to go at once to the seat of the trouble—acid-stomach. You know what acid-

mouth does to the teeth—how it eats right through the hard enamel and causes them to decay. Think then of the havoc that must be caused by excess acid in the stomach!

Even if you are not suffering any immediate stomach pains, but are not feeling just as fit and fine as you should, you should by all means make this test: go to your drug-store at once and get a big box of EATONIC. It is in the form of pleasant-tasting tablets—you eat them like a bit of candy. EATONIC is prepared for just one purpose—correcting acid-stomach by driving out the excess acid. EATONIC literally absorbs the excess acid. It brings instant relief from the pains of indigestion, heartburn, belching, sour, gassy stomach, bloating, etc. It makes the stomach pure, sweet, cool and comfortable, puts it in a normal, healthy condition, so that your food is properly digested. You need every bit of strength you can possibly get out of the food you eat—and EATONIC helps you get it.

Don't put this test off if you value your future good health and happiness. You run no chance at all because EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed to give you relief or your druggist will refund your money. The cost is a mere trifle.

ONE MAN OPERATES BOTH TRACTOR AND IMPLEMENT

One Man Discs 27 Acres a Day with the New

MOLINE

It Solves The Farm Help Problem

Discing is rapidly and economically done with the new Moline-Universal Tractor, Model D, one man with an 8-foot tandem disc harrow covering 27 acres in ten hours. With a 10-foot disc harrow he covers 33 acres, and with a 20-foot peg-tooth harrow 76 acres.

The light weight of the Moline-Universal Tractor, 3,350 pounds, makes it especially adapted for discing and similar work, as it does not pack the soil and uses but little fuel, running on less than half throttle most of the time. It is light, but more than enough power to pull two 14-inch plows at high speed, all its weight being traction weight.

The Moline-Universal Tractor attaches directly to the implement and forms a single, compact unit with it that is controlled by the operator from the seat of the implement, where he must sit to do good work. One man with the Moline-Universal does as good work as two men with the average tractor.

The Moline-Universal is adapted for all classes of farm work. Its high clearance, 39 1/2 inches, makes it ideal for cultivating, and it is equally well fitted for planting and harvesting. In addition, it has ample power for belt work, pulling a 24-inch grain separator or 16-inch ensilage cutter with ease.

There is work on the farm every day in the year for the Moline-Universal Tractor. It will do every field operation that can be done with horses and do it better, faster, and cheaper. This is why the Moline-Universal really replaces horses, and, at the same time, by enabling one man to do much more work than ever before possible, solves the farm help problem.

The detailed construction of the new Moline-Universal, Model D, is the best it is possible to manufacture. Perfected 4-cylinder overhead-valve engine, electric starting and lighting system, complete enclosure of all working parts, and fifteen Hyatt roller bearings, are a few of the main features.

We invite you to examine this machine at your earliest opportunity.

GERMAN SOLDIER IS NOT DANGEROUS

Under the New Republic the Various Departments of the Army no Longer Exist

USED IN EMERGENCIES ONLY.

Organization Is Under the Supervision of One of the Government's Most Trusted Men.

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, March 20. (By Mail.)—Under the new republic the departments of the army and navy are no more, in name at least. The republic's name for them is defense, and they are placed under charge of Gustav Noske, much trusted by the Government for his prompt action in emergencies, and much hated by the Spartacans for his relentless opposition when disorders break out.

Noske's appointment as head of the navy, as well as the army, was regarded none too seriously, by Noske himself at least. When asked by a newspaperman what he expected to do about the naval affairs of Germany in the future, Noske laughed and replied, "Why worry about naval affairs, when we haven't any navy."

There are still sailors in big numbers in Germany, however, and they have been a problem. During the revolution the sailors played an important part, and most of them developed such a liking to land duty in Berlin and other big cities that they have refused to leave for Kiel or any of the harbors. Now the sailors are used in the guard regiments all over Germany, along with soldiers.

The German army is in process of reorganization. Immediately after the armistice, the army almost disappeared as an organized unit, and though there were millions of men in uniform scattered all over the land, none was responsible to anyone, and officers were not even safe in uniform. In localities the soldiers joined "red guard" groups, and some served and others misused their privileges. Thus the army as it was known in the old days practically vanished, except for a few divisions under Hindenburg, camped behind the Rhine, and the troops along the Polish border.

Now the only army of the field that Germany has is in the east to guard against the Poles. It is commanded by Hindenburg and is supposed to be not more than sixty or seventy thousand men, if it numbers that many. However, Government troops are scattered over the country in every big city and in industrial centers to guard against disorders. The big problem is keeping these troops faithful and satisfied, when Spartacan propaganda and money is at large. Under Noske and the minister of war, Colonel Reinhard, though the morale and discipline of the Government troops have improved tremendously until a great part of the former efficiency is restored.

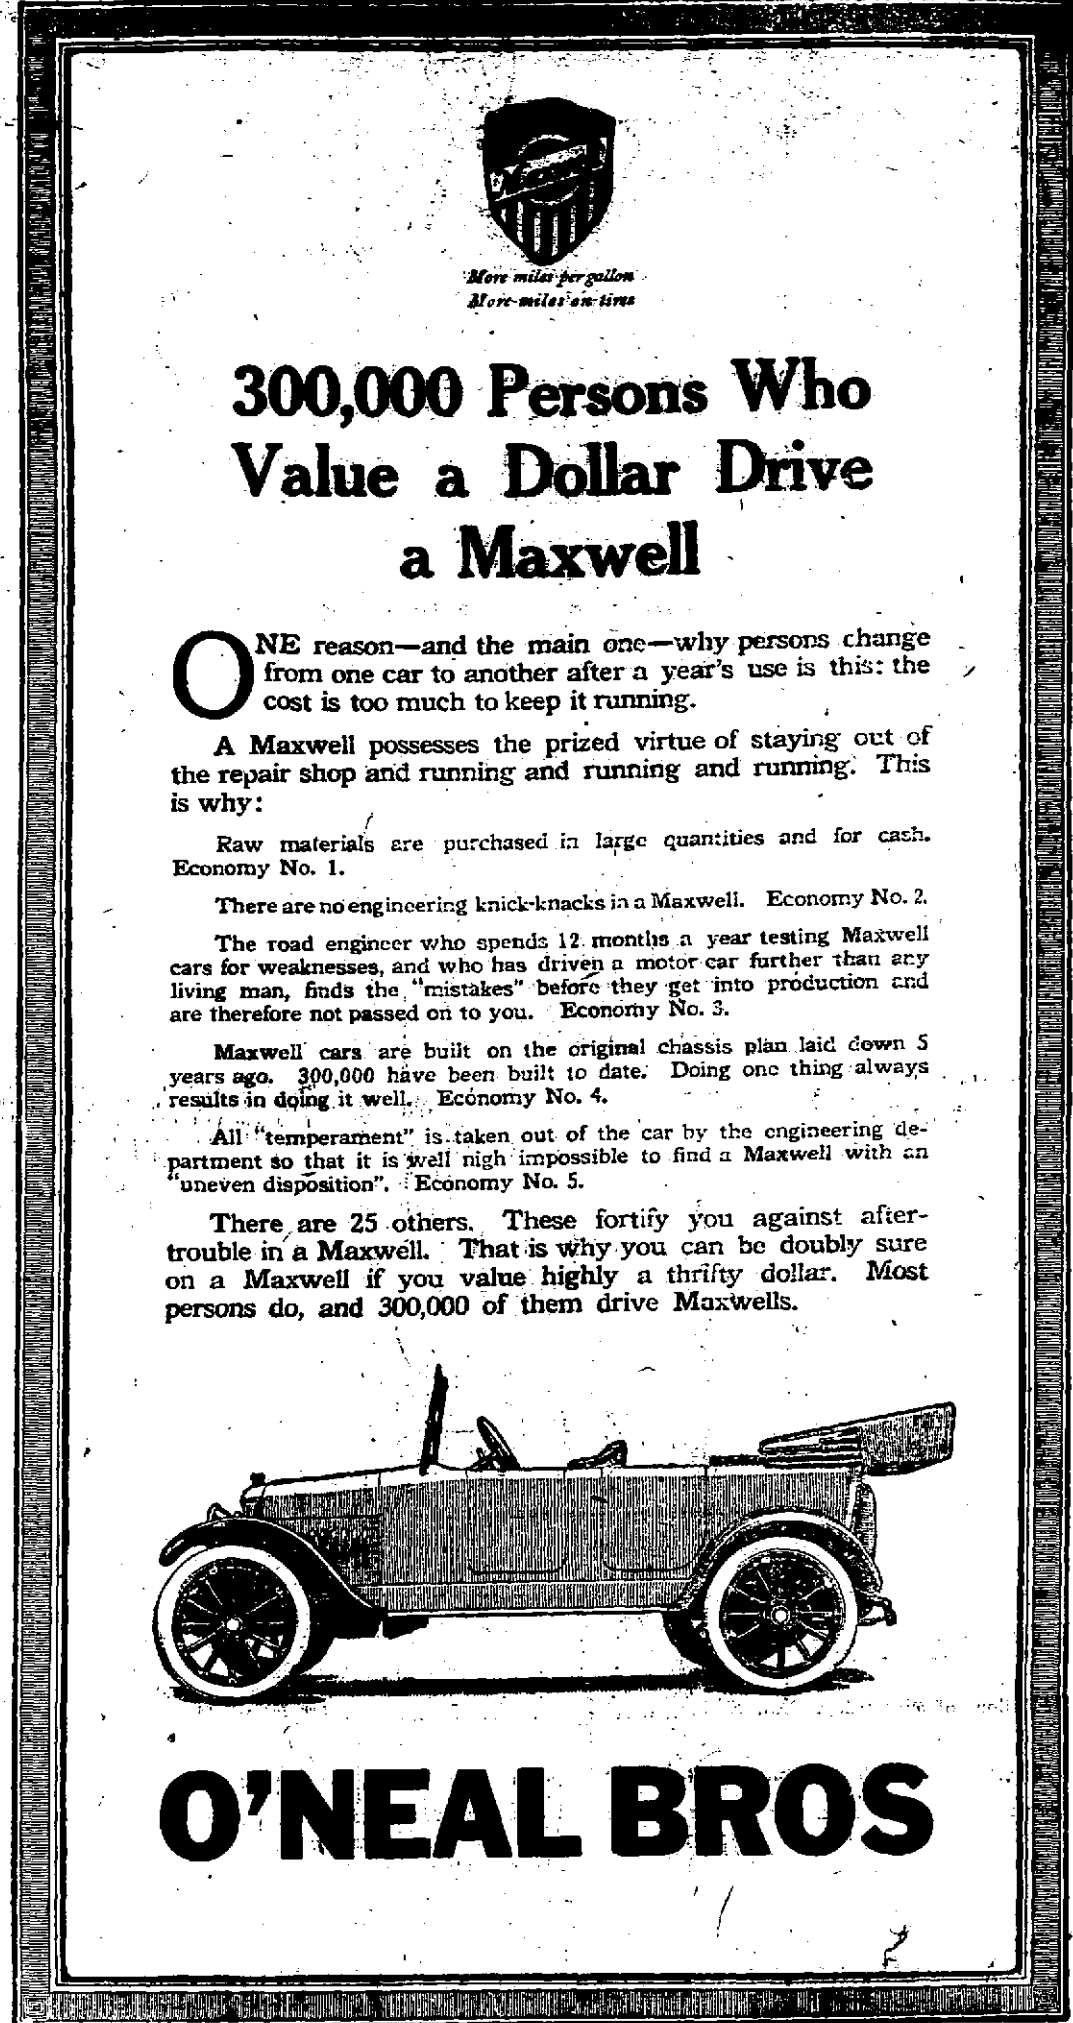

Germany's army is in a transitory state. What it will become depends upon the peace terms. The Germans recognize. But there has evidently been a change in idea in the Government. Early in the revolution, Ebert, declared himself against a conscripted army, and Noske and

ONE reason—and the main one—why persons change from one car to another after a year's use is this: the cost is too much to keep it running.

A Maxwell possesses the prized virtue of staying out of the repair shop and running and running. This is why:

Raw materials are purchased in large quantities and for cash. Economy No. 1.

There are no engineering knick-knacks in a Maxwell. Economy No. 2.

The road engineer who spends 12 months a year testing Maxwell cars for weaknesses, and who has driven a motor car further than any living man, finds the "mistakes" before they get into production and are therefore not passed on to you. Economy No. 3.

Maxwell cars are built on the original chassis plan laid down 5 years ago. 300,000 have been built to date. Doing one thing always results in doing it well. Economy No. 4.

All "temperament" is taken out of the car by the engineering department so that it is well nigh impossible to find a Maxwell with an uneven disposition". Economy No. 5.

There are 25 others. These fortify you against after-trouble in a Maxwell. That is why you can be doubly sure on a Maxwell if you value highly a thrifty dollar. Most persons do, and 300,000 of them drive Maxwells.

O'NEAL BROS

Reinhard were appointed to organize volunteer forces, serving for short periods, to defend the new Government. As a matter of fact the troops used for interior defense are all volunteers, mostly young men, serving for three or six months at good pay.

The policy of the new republic will be against conscription in theory, declares President Ebert, but there is not much hope of putting the theory into effect, for it is pointed out that Germany will not abolish conscription, unless the neighboring nations do. Since the Germans do not expect their neighbors to depend on volunteers, plans are being worked out for a new conscription army, serving shorter periods and modeled more after the Swiss than the old Prussian army. The militia idea is popular, but is considered idealistic.

The German army of interior defense, which probably numbers around a hundred thousand men, or possibly a few thousand more, is an expensive proposition. Volunteers have to be paid well to keep them from being won over by the Spartacans, who offer more money. Food and equipment is good. The new army has a rather slack discipline, and none of the old Prussian snap is seen when officers appear. Familiarity and almost insolence are seen on every hand. The German trooper has changed a lot with the revolution, and if appearances are at all indicative. The government forces in Germany today are not to be feared outside Germany.

Although ridiculed as a crize, it is a scientific fact that "sour milk conduces to longevity.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco; indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Tiredness, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood, vigorous and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but a man who can do a man's work, you must take seven tablets of Modona every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one daily after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded; if the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

No-fee—It is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, shaky, and ailing men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

SITUATION IN MUNICH IS STILL CONFUSING

War Minister Noske Threatens to Send a Military Expedition Against City

GERMAN STRIKES CONTINUE

(By United Press.)
 Bern, April 15.—War Minister Noske has threatened to send a military expedition against Munich, according to advices received here. The situation in Munich is still confusing. Reports of the overthrow of the Soviet government has not yet been confirmed nor later reports of the restoration of the Soviets to power. It has been learned that a Soviet republic has been proclaimed in Brunswick. Communists rule in the Ruhr district have been prevented only through overwhelming numbers of government troops occupying that region.
 Strikes are continuing throughout Germany. The new Bolshevik attacks have been to obtain control of certain railway centers.
 Spartacists are feverishly attempting to join hands with communists in Munich.

MATCH YOU!
 Indianapolis, April 15.—Why not match your wife's savings? Hays Buskirk of Bloomington and Indianapolis, makes the suggestion. He agreed to buy a war savings stamp for his wife, to match every one that she was able to buy out of her household allowance. He gives the stamp to Mrs. Buskirk, with the result, he says, that her savings run steadily to a tidy sum every month.
 Mr. Buskirk made this suggestion to several married men and many are taking it up.

AMUSEMENTS

A 20th Century Hero

The conventional stage hero of some years ago would not recognize George Walsh, who is appearing at the Mystic theatre tonight in his latest William Fox production, "I'll Say So," as belonging to the hero class. His methods would probably shock many of those matinee idols, whose work was of the same cut and dried style that was thought necessary to the role.

It is not enough to describe Walsh's acting as "different." It is different but it is characterized by a personality which has brought this young star to the front rank of popular choice. His acting is a proof that the highest art lies in being natural. On the screen he is seen as himself—big, strong, handsome, manly American.

His loveliness as a hero does not contain any of that stock business of stage craft. It is free and open, it is as wholesome and as natural as the air he breathes.

Walsh was born on March 15th, 1892, in New York City. His father was an Englishman and his ancestors have been in the British Army and Navy for generations.

Young Walsh was reared as a New Yorker and was educated in the public schools there. Later he attended Fordham and Georgetown Universities and took degrees there.

During his school and college career George Walsh was not only able in his studies, but he was noted as an athlete. His cleverness on a horse, at the wheel of a racing car, in the water or on ice is well known to Fox Film fans. This sort of training has best fitted him for the style of action with which he surrounds all of his pictures.

Tomorrow Margaret Fischer in "Money Isn't Everything," will be shown.

Double Program Draws

"The Doctor and the Woman," directed by Lois Weber, was shown at the Princess theatre last night to a crowded house and will be shown again tonight.

Why should a famous physician suddenly sacrifice friends, fame and fortune—disappear to hide his head in shame from his fellow practitioners? What reasons are powerful enough to cause him to thus give up the benefits that came as the result of a lifetime endeavor?

"The Doctor and the Woman," the Jewel adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinehart's powerful novel "K" tells the story of this physician's predicament.

Of special interest is the fact that "The Doctor and the Woman," was directed by Lois Weber, whose recent production "The Price of a Good Time," created such a sensation in this community.

True Boardman appears as co-star with Miss Harris, enacting the role of "K LeMoyné," the physician who seeks to hide himself from his fellowmen.

Fatty Arbuckle in "Camping Out" is also on the program. Tomorrow Norma Talmadge in "The Probation Wife," and Pathe News are the offerings. Friday Fred Stone in "Under the Top," will be shown.

Tells of Remedy for Chronic Coughs

Crockett, Va.—"I had a chronic cough, was run-down, overworked and hardly able to keep about and do my housework, when my druggist asked me to try Vinol. I quickly improved by its use, my cough has disappeared and it has built me up in every way." Mrs. H. Hannonshell.

The reason we guarantee Vinol is because it is a constitutional remedy containing beef and cod liver peptones, it builds up the entire system and removes the cause of coughs and colds. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists and Druggists Everywhere.

Inward Satisfaction Vs. Outward Evidences of Anxiety

Outward evidences which advertise the average motorists' anxieties are noticeably absent from the FRANKLIN SEDAN—radiator blanket, water thermometer, alcohol fumes, spare tires, shock absorbers.

Contrast the advertised worries of other motorists with the inward satisfaction of the FRANKLIN SEDAN owner. No water to boil or freeze—177 parts incident to water cooling eliminated. Half as many tires to buy—blowouts and punctures almost unknown. More miles per day and more days per year than other motorists get.

When you buy a FRANKLIN SEDAN you buy a clean bill of performance with freedom from many common worries, big and little.
